Torture of Women.

It was a terrible torture that Mrs. Gertie McFarland, of King's Mountain, N. C., describes, as follows: "I suffered dreadful periodical pain, and became so weak I was given up to die, when my husband got me Wine of Cardui. The first dose gave relief, and with three bottles I am up doing my work. I cannot say enough in praise of Cardui." A wonderful remedy for women's ills. At drugists; $1.00.

White clover, blue grass and lawn grass mixture for your lawns at McAtee Merc. Co.

Officers and Directors.

At a meeting of the Cape Girardeau County Farmers and Stock-Raisers' Association in Jackson last Saturday the following directors were elected: H. J. Weiss, Henry Neumeyer, B. F. Sides, L. R. Johnson, Willis Knox, R. W. McNeely, J. H. Campbell, S. D. Hensley and A. J. McGhee.
The following are the officers for the ensuing year: L. R. Johnson, president; B. F. Sides, secretary; J. H. Campbell, treasurer.

Northern Seed Potatoes $1.00 per bushel at Sibley's.

County Experiment Stations.

The county court of Jasper county, Missouri, has just arranged to take advantage of the law making it possible for each Missouri county to have an agricultural experiment station of its own. The county will put up $500 annually for a period of five years, and additional expenses will be paid by the State. The location for the new station will be agreed upon at once, Prof. M. F. Miller, of the Agricultural College at Columbia, representing the State, and the ground will be made ready for the 1909 season. This is the first station of the kind to be established in Missouri, and it is said to be the first in the United States. But several other Missouri counties will probably arrange for similar stations just as soon as possible. The cost of such a station in any county need not exceed a few hundred dollars, at most, while the great value is hard to estimate.

The law providing for the establishment of county agricultural experiment stations (known as the Nelson law, from the name of the author) was enacted in 1907. Section 1 reads, in part: "In order to determine and demonstrate the importance of improved seed, of better cultural methods, and to favor the general adoption of better agricultural practice and to bring the results of the scientific research of the State experiment station and of the federal department of agriculture within reach of all the farmers of Missouri, the county court of any county in the State may establish and maintain a county experiment station."

Such county experiment station may be located on the county farm or elsewhere. The state experiment station at Columbia furnishes, without expense to the county, all necessary advice and assistance in the planning of the experiments, the selection of suitable land, and in the laying out of the plots. It also furnishes seed and fertilizers, and, wherever possible, a proper officer to superintend the planting and harvesting and to make such photographs and records as may be needed, the reports to be printed for public distribution.

At a county experiment station experiments are to be conducted for the purpose of testing different crops and varieties of seeds in which the farmers of the county may be especially interested. New and untried crops may also be tried, crop rotation studied, and fertilizers tested. Improved seed may also be grown for dissemination within the county.

In brief, a county experiment station is for the farmers of the county. If they want a half-dozen varieties of seed oats tested, they can have it done right at home and without expense, thus determining which variety is best; or they may get definite information on corn, trying eight or ten different varieties. In some counties alfalfa information may be wanted, and test plots, under different conditions, sowed. Thus will they get an answer to the question, Will alfalfa grow in this county? The possibilities are not limited to the answering of a single problem.

Every county in Missouri may have an agricultural experiment station if it wants it, but it may not be possible to reach all at once. It will be a case of "first come, first served."

New Methodist Church.

The first service was held in the new Methodist church last Sunday. The members assembled at the old church in Sunday school at 9 a. m. and formed a line of march to the new church. They went to the new building double-file, by classes, the primary class leading the way and the "Set the Pace" class bringing up the rear. The last-named is the class of married men and women, fathers and mothers. There are fifteen classes in the Sunday school, and each class carried a banner with a proper inscription or motto upon it. There were nearly five hundred persons in the march. It was a very nice scene, impressing one with the fact that the Methodist Sunday school is the largest in this part of the State. There were 462 pupils in actual attendance Sunday. There are 1,100 in the school, home department and all.

The new church is everything that the congregation and the citizens of Jackson could ask. It is one good building of modern architecture. Now let our citizens make an effort to get other good public buildings erected in our city.

The Organ Concert.

The organ concert by Edwin Vaile McIntyre of St. Louis, given in the Methodist church Tuesday night, was a great treat to the citizens of our town. Those who know good music say that the selections as rendered by Mr. McIntyre were excellent. He made the organ fairly talk. The church was filled to its full capacity, and standing room was hard to get on the lower floor.

From Pocahontas.

Farmers were busy sowing oats and making garden the latter part of last week.

Master Hugo Putz visited Dr. W. A. Schoen Friday and Saturday and reported a big time.

The sale at M. F. Zorn's last Thursday was fairly well attended. Things sold at good prices, and the sale cleared between seven and eight hundred dollars. Hatler being the auctioneer and R. H. Ruehling his secretary.

E. G. Schoen, of the firm Schoen & Bros., left for St. Louis Sunday to buy their spring stock of goods.

Just a day or two, and Appleton will be connected with the F. M. T. S. at the Pocahontas central, which will make it over a hundred 'phones connected at our switchboard.

M. F. Zorn left Monday for the Cape, where he will remain a few days, going from there to St. Louis to visit relatives.

R. H. Ruehling was out at Appleton Friday and Saturday installing telephones and erecting wires.

Miss Viola Nenert left Monday for the Cape to spend a few weeks.

Aug. Schoen went to Neely's Sunday and took E. G. Schoen, who went on the Frisco.

Herm. Petzoldt, Jr., is making preparation to build a new barn. Ben Morton, of the Cape, was in town Saturday night and attended the Masonic lodge.

Several from here attended the entertainment at Leemon last Tuesday night.

Some around here have taken hold of the map proposition and are well pleased.

D. C. Thompson left for St. Louis to buy the spring goods for his store.

From Oriole.

Times are dull in this vicinity on account of rain and sickness.

Mr. Ed Samuels is very low. He stuck a saw tooth in his knee, and blood-poison has set in. Three doctors have been waiting on him. The prospects are not favorable.

There is a good deal of other sickness around, but it is mostly colds and grippe.

Charles Hughes has sold his farm to the Rev. Mr. Mangray for $800. Charles wound up his ball and pulled for Oran, Mo. We all hated to have him leave us, but he left a good man in his place.

Pat McLachlin and family, of Oklahoma, are here on a visit. It's Me.

FOR SALE—Oak, poplar and gum lumber at a very low price. See Hy Steck at mill, two miles east of Dutchtown, on Bloomfield road.
